

What happend to this game?

Hi,

So asking the community, is it even worth the effort to try get into this game, or do you feel like the plug is gonna get pulled soon. Because i don't really see this game surviving 2018.

Are there other factors than the game itself (And i could imagine Loot boxes as well) that has caused basically everyone to run away?that's rather sad, because at the core of it all, it's a beautiful game, visually. It plays well and the tanks feels rather nice to drive with. And PvE is something i miss from WoT, although i can see why it's hard to both balance it and make it fun at the same time. Personally i think they need to make it much more like WoT, or Warthunder. Bigger maps, much bigger game modes. And revamp the maps, i feel like they're way too small.

Please help.

I didn't find the right solution from the Internet.
